Lindsey Moor Makes the Top

Once far away in Toy Land, there was a toy shop. It held three big boxes of dolls. The first box held dolls ranging in age from one to three, the second, four to ten and the third, ten to adult. These boxes were magical because the dolls inside could talk, walk, play, etc. without batteries.

Now I will tell you about four of the many dolls who lived in the magical boxes. Lindsey Moor lived in the second magic box. Now Lindsey had some problems. First her clothes weren't pretty like the other girls. All the girls but Lindsey had long hair. But worst of all, Lindsey Moore was the youngest doll!

So Lindsey just talked to herself and played all by herself. Lindsey Moor's parents Linda and Fred were much like her, but they had each other.

One day, April 19th, all the dolls in box one were sick, all but two year old Rachel. So she came to Lindsey's box. Everyone but Lindsey was mean to Rachel. So Rachel and Lindsey played together for the whole week. But at the end of the week, Rachel went home.

That very day, the owner's daughter came into the toy shop. She had to pick two dolls to play with. She picked Lindsey and Rachel. They had fun! When they got home, everyone wanted to play with Rachel and Lindsey. So they taught the other dolls how to be nice and then they played with them. Then everyone was happy, especially Lindsey Moor!
